Sounds good. You can use the same adobe connect link that we used last time, luckily they are reusable.

We should have something to share, and I believe it may fill in some of the gaps during our last discussion. Feel free to invite others as available/necessary. How about, tentatively, 3:00 to 4:00, 10/8?

Well congratulations! I am currently wide open for Wed afternoon so that will work. I have gotten sidetracked on a number of other issues so haven't made a lot of headway, but if you have something to share, it would be beneficial. I may make some headway by then, but trying to clean up a few other projects that should have been done by EOY.

Sean, do you have any time to meet on Wednesday afternoon? I'm open all afternoon and think that we might benefit from running through a screen share session. Let us know if another time might be better for you and we can accommodate. Just one caveat, my wife is due any day now, so at some point I will be out for a week....but not today....so far.

Thanks,

Steve
